The five-year survival rate for breast caricer exceeds 97 percent – when it's caught in time. And with the Grand Opening of the Breast Center, Palms West Hospital is making it easy to follow American Cancer Society recommendations for breast cancer screening and mammography.

The Breast Center is a dedicated center on the Palms West Hospital campus that's equipped with the very latest mammography, ultrasound and biopsy technology. Each mammogram is analyzed by two board-certified radiologists, for more accurate and reliable diagnosis. Should an abnormality be found, a stereotactic breast biopsy can be performed in the Breast Center to obtain a tissue sample for more extensive analysis. This minimally invasive procedure can be performed without general anesthetic on an outpatient basis.

The Breast Center makes it possible to reliably detect abnormalities at a much earlier stage than breast self-examination alone. It's a potentially lifesaving health care resource, but it's useless if you don't take advantage of it. Please take the first step by calling (561) 798-6005.

Husse's my advice for whatever it's worth- Don't hide hard boiled eggs.

I have nothing against eggs. I love them, scrambled, hard boiled, poached or made into omelettes. Eggs are high in protein and low in; calories. A large egg contains 4.5 grams of fat and 213 milligrams of cholesterol, and about 70 calories. Eggs contain choline, which the body uses to make a brain chemical necessary for good

Since then, researchers have discov-ered that lifestyle factors may have more impact on a person cholesterol level than diet ha cholesterol level than diet has. For example, exercise helps reduce your cholesterol level; smoking cigarettes increases cholesterol. Eating eggs for breakfast may affect your cholesterol less than smoking a cigarette after your meal.

But hiding real eggs is just not a good idea, especially in Florida.

Eggs are one of nature's won-ders. Their shell gives them a lot of protection and helps keep them fresh. When you boil an egg, the shell loses some of that protection. A boiled egg shell has tiny openings, just large enough for bacteria to get in. Once an egg is hard boiled, it should be kept refrigerated. Have you ever noticed that

Some organizations I know even "recycle" the plastic eggs. Once the kids have found them and taken out the candy and prizes, they return the plastic

If you are putting candy in plastic eggs, make sure it isn't something that can melt. Never underestimate the Flori-

Writer defends Mayor Harma Miller

Dear Editor:

I am writing in response to opinions expressed in recent issues of The Sun Speak Out section.

I would like to respond to the continuing efforts to discredit Mayor Miller. First, it was her son-in-law being hired by the city, and this continues to be a problem with some people. For three weeks she has been accused of having city employees working in her yard and most recently, the editor printed that Mayor Miller would no longer respond to opinions expressed in the Speak Out section. I appliad her for taking this longer respond to opinions expressed in the Speak Out section. I applaud her for taking this stand. I would not deal with petty accusations ther.

Mayor Miller has addressed the issues relating to city workers in her yard, and her son-in-law being hired by the city. Evidently, callers to Speak Out don't attend commission meetings.

The Director of the Public Service Department stood before the commissioners at the April 3 meeting and expressed that Mr. Tate was an asset to the department.

Where were these callers when the previous city manager and department heads were using taxpayer's money and city employees for their personal gains?

When citizens have concerns about city business and issues, city hall is where they should go. Go to the appropriate department head, the city manager or address the commissioners at a regular meeting.

Support your commissioners by attending meetings and being informed.

The very first settlement in the Glades was at Okcelanta, about four miles from the lake on the Jorth New River Canal. There were five men that settled there and Lawrence Will was included in that group. A couple of months later, in November of 1913, Glades Crest was the first settlement along the canal. According to Lawrence Will's daughter, Barbara Stevens, early pioneers came to the area because they had interests in different area because they had interests in different things. For example, people were interested in experimenting with the rich soil. Lawrence Will wrote, "It could raise: the most stupendous veg-etables, solid and delicious, without a pound of fertilizer." It was nitrogen rich but it lacked many minor mineral elements such as copper which was very essential for growing vegetables. Many farmers began to settle in the Gladesi around the end of World War I. Farmers came to the total control of the control around the end of World War I. Farmers came to try to grow vegetables such as: red potatoes, radishes, beans, and celery. Other vegetables such as tomatoes were tried but they weren't very successful because the tomatoes were too soft and they would be damaged during the shipping. Later our area was nicknamed the "Winter Vegetable Capital of the United States." (It wasnit until the early, 60% that sugar farming became a prominent business.) they were in need of jobs and packing houses and felds had jobs to offer.

In 1919, enough people lived along the canal that they could have a passenger boat, Passing Thru, running from Belle Glade to Ft. Lauderdale. Also, Frank Franz and Lawrence Will had a boat, New Okeelanta, hauling freight from Belle Glade, South Bay, and Okeelanta for Et. Lauderdale and Miami. Also, in the early 1920's, a man named Slim Rutledge, Dolly Hand's father, came to the area of West Palm Beach working with construction. After the construction was done he decided he wanted to stay. He recognized the need for ice in the area and flought the first ice truck that ran from West Pellm to Belle Glade. He also noticed the need of ice when hauling vegetables, which they would pack in the ice in the railroad cars for transportation. Like Mrs. Hand and Mrs. Stevens, many relatives of those early settlers still reside in the Belle Glade area today.

Roemer's scale obviously needed a lot of work, so Fahrenheit took the temperature of a mixture of ice water and salt as the low point on his temperature scale and the and salt as the low point on his temperature scale and the human body as the high point. The space between he divided into 96 degrees. The freezing point of water became 32 degrees and the boiling point was set at 212 degrees on Fahrenheit's scale.

Still, there were problems, not with the scale but with the contents of the thermometer.

Fahrenheit, the self-taught

Mayor's Welcome

E MAX

Welcome to Black Gold Jubilee 2000. "Reflections of the Glades." The people of the Glades have many things to reflect upon as we look back over the contributions and sacrifices that the early pioneers made, so that we could enjoy the benefits of their labor from the rich fields of "Black Gold" soil. Many of us have lived in the Glades all of our lives, and have witnessed, first hand, the work ethic and values of our parents and grandparents. We are grateful for their vision which has enabled those of us who live here today to grow and prosper.

The Glades is a unique place of varied cultures. The Black Gold Jubilee gives us an opportunity to express our thankfulness, not only for the bountiful harvest provided from the soil, but for the multitude of talented and dedicated citizens of our community, past and present, who continue to enrich our lives in countless ways. As we gather to celebrate the end of the harvest season, let us also remember to celebrate the friendships and the sense of community that bind us together as family, as we consider our own personal "Reflections of the Glades."

Chairman's Welcome

Welcome to the 2000 Black Gold Jubilee, a tradition on the shores of beautiful Lake Okeechobee since 1979. This end of harvest observance serves annually to unite our entire community. Join us as we celebrate the marvelous bounty produced from our treasured black soil, our "black gold."

The theme of this year's Jubilee is "Reflections of the Glades." This theme is both timely and appropriate as we embrace the beginning of a new century. As we pause in thoughtful reflection on the events of our past, we ponder the people and experiences that have shaped our community, our beliefs and our lives. Throughout this year's booklet are presented the reflections of children on the events that have thus far made an impression on their lives. These clever and thoughtful reflections should serve to ever remind us that our actions today will reflect on our every tomorrow and will one day become someone else's impressions.

Staying true to the tradition of former Jubilees, great care has been taken to provide something for everyone - from some terrific Glades Style cooking to displays of local artists & artisans, from parades and sporting events, to children's activities, music and contests. We think you will be pleased by the wonderful array of activities we have planned for you this year!

I can't thank, enough, all of the wonderful Black Gold Committee volunteers who have given so unselfishly of themselves to insure the success of this year's Jubilee. I also wish to thank the City of Belle Glade, our local clubs and organizations, and most importantly, this booklet's advertisers and the individuals and businesses who, without their financial support, the Black Gold Jubilee could not exist.

Again, welcome, thank you and enjoy.

Police Officer of the Year

Detective James Benedict

Belle Glade Detective James A. Benedict was named Police Officer of the Year for 1999 at the Chamber Banquet.

Det. Benedict was lauded by Police Chief Michael Miller who said that during the months of April and May of last year the Police Department received numerous calls of armed home invasion type robberies. On May 11, while patrolling in an unmarked undercover vehicle in the targeted areas of the city, Det. Benedict saw a man running through a yard carrying a VCR. The man ran to a car which was parked on an adjacent street. In the car were two other men.

When they saw the undercover police car, the driver tried to flee the area. Det. Benedict pulled in front of the car to prevent the men from escaping. The driver of the car rammed the officer's car in an attempt to escape, but the two cars lodged together.

Det. Benedict jumped out of the unmarked car with his weapon drawn and broke the driver's side window and dove through the window and snatched the car keys so the suspects couldn't escape.

Shortly thereafter a resident came up and reported he had just been beaten and robbed. The suspects had the victim's property and a gun.

"He placed his own personal safety at great risk in order to apprehend the suspects in this case," said Chief Miller.

Det. Benedict was not in attendance at the banquet, said Chief Miller, because he was recently married and he and his wife were enjoying a honeymoon cruise in the Caribbean.

THE FAMILY OF FRITZ STEIN FARMS SALUTES THE 22ND ANNIVERSARY OF BLACK GOLD JUBILEE

The richest of the black muck has brought health, wealth and prosperity to generations of families around the lake for centuries.

The soil has been cultivated and harvested over and over for generations.

Our black gold soil has provided healthy and wealthy blessings of rich Sugar Cane and Vegetables for human consumption, and probably the best in the nation, which has been passed down from Father to Son for many generations.

Through frost, rains, floods, tornadoes and hurricanes, we're proud to say we've survived it all.

We're still providing nourishment for the nation, community, friends, and our family.

Black Gold is one of our heritages we should all be proud of and support to the fullest.

Best of Luck Black Gold Jubilee this year and into the new millennium.

Farm Family of the Year

The Raymond Roth Family

The Raymond Roth family was named Farm Family of the Year by the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau in September. Raymond Roth, patriarch of the Farm Family of the Year, built a farming operation in the Glades that has prospered, and continues to this day.

Raymond Roth came to the Glades in 1948 when he was 24. He began growing radishes and leafy vegetables, doing most of the field work himself. He had no interest in growing beans or sweet corn, which were the dominant crops then in the Glades. He concentrated on what he knew

In 1955, he married Mary Libby Hooker and they had four children, Rick, Cynthia, Susan and Christy.

After graduation from Emory University, Rick returned and started farming with his dad. In the mid-1960's Mr. Roth joined with Sam Knight and Fritz Stein and purchased a large tract of undeveloped willow muck land near Twenty Mile Bend and they began growing sugarcane. He was one of the founding members of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative. Raymond Roth died at age 61.

Today, Roth Farms has grown and prospered. The operation has expanded and they continue to grow sugarcane, radishes and leafy vegetables.

Rick Roth and his wife, Jeannie, have three children and live in Wellington. Sue Roth is the administrative assistant at Roth Farms. Christy LeCroy lives in Loxahatchee and Cindy Roth lives in Dillsboro, North Carolina.

Night Golf Tournament was April 8

Night Golf was Saturday, April 8 at dark. The tournament format was a best-ball scramble, with 14 teams vying for first, second, and third place prizes.

Once the Tiki Torches are lit and everyone had bathed in Off, the golfers were off with a shot-gun start. And, half the fun of Night Golf was watching otherwise talented golfers trying their best just to make contact with the lighted balls and tees.

Equally challenging for the golfers was trying to maneuver the golf carts through very dark pathways. The tournament was held at the beautiful 18-hole Belle Glade Golf Course on Torry Island Road.

· Jubilee Dance was after Night Golf

Did you miss the excitement of the Annual Black Gold Jubilee Dance this year? Well, don't miss out on all the fun next year. Dance Chair Lyn'd Hart says, "Again this year we had planned to have food and lots of door prizes and a D.J. on hand to play everyone's favorite tunes."

Everyone Loves a Parade!

Parade participants will reflect this year's theme, Reflections of the Glades" in their entries and the event will feature the Amara Shriners, marching units, floats, local celebrities, and the Glades Central Raiders 1999 3-A Championship Football Team.

Parade Chair Cheryl Stein encourages clubs, organizations and businesses to enter a float, decorated car or truck or just bring a banner and walk the route. The line up is at 10 a.m. on April 15, and will start at Avenue L and move down Main Street to the Belle Glade City Hall Complex. The reviewing stand will be in front of Seminole Supply Company. The parade will conclude at the City Hall Complex.

This will be one of the Jubilee's best parades, so come early to get a good spot!

1999 Harvest Queen

Donna Dixon

Being named the 1999 Harvest Queen has had "an impact on my life," says 18-year-old Donna Dixon. The Belle Glade resident is the daughter of Lawrence and Margarita Dixon. Donna won the title while a senior at Glades Day School in Belle Glade. Currently, she is attending Palm Beach Community College and working part time as an optometrist assistant at Dr. Don Fliehs' office. She is studying telecommunications and plans to transfer to Santa Fe Community College in Gainesville in the fall and then on to the University of Florida to study broadcasting.

Donna says she doesn't have a lot of spare time, but when she does, she enjoys exercising and writing. While at GDS she was on the homecoming court, the journalism staff and co-editor in chief of the Gator yearbook. She was secretary for the Student Council and participated in the Senior Class play.

In addition to the $750 scholarship she received from the Belle Glade Lions Club, which sponsors the Harvest Queen Contest each year, Donna was one of only 10 Glades students to receive a Wackenhut Scholarship for $1,000. The criteria was based on community service and high grade point average. "It was definitely an honor to be chosen the queen from my hometown," says Donna.

The Harvest Queen Pageant is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 14, at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center. The event, a yearly sell-out, is co-sponsored by the Lions Club and Palm Beach Community College-Glades Campus.

Gramps and granddaughter enjoyed last year's fishing contest.

Each year the attendance gets better and the prizes get bigger at the annual Children's Fishing Contest.

Volunteers from the Glades Area Association for Retarded Citizens cooked lunch for the children, free of charge, and adults were able to purchase a meal. There were four divisions: Toddlers for children 0-5; Division I for children 6-8; Division II for children 9-12; Division III for kids ages 13-15.

Our new look for the new millennium

On February 9, 2000, we broke ground to begin construction on our new OB and nursery units, surgical suites, and ER. We're continuing to grow and to meet the needs of Belle Glade and the surrounding areas.

But just as every child is born with a new fingerprint, we too have a new mark to leave on the Glades. It's a symbol of our commitment to the care of our patients and the health of our community. One that embraces our traditions and strengthens our mission, vision and values. A mark of quality healthcare for the new millennium.
